BHR/79	12/01/09	11/03/09	Todos los productos	Bahrain - This draft GCC regulation lays down the safety requirements applied to all products placed on the GCC market, whether manufactured in or imported into GCC. In the absence of more specific provisions, within the framework of GCC legislations covering safety of the products, all the provisions of this regulation should apply in order to ensure consumer health and safety. If specific GCC legislation sets out special safety requirements to the specific products then those determined by the provisions of the specific legislation supersede this general product safety regulation. This proposed Regulation does not apply to goods for export outside the GCC or second hand goods.

CAN/256	26/01/09	16/03/09	Prescription status of medicinal ingredients for human use	Canada - Prescription status of medicinal ingredients for human use 1. Ambrisentan is an endothelin receptor antagonist that is used to treat pulmonary arterial hypertension (PAH), a condition characterized by high blood pressure in the pulmonary artery. 2. Etravirine and its salts is an HIV non-nucleoside reverse transcriptase inhibitor (NNRTI). Etravirine and its salts is used in the treatment of human immunodeficiency virus type 1 (HIV-1) infection in patients for whom other HIV treatments are not effective. 3. Methoxy polyethylene glycol-epoetin beta is a polymer-based erythropoietic compound that increases the number of red blood cells and hemoglobin level in the blood. Methoxy polyethylene glycol-epoetin beta is used for the treatment of anemia in patients with chronic kidney disease. 4. The current listing for 'naltrexone and its salts' is revised to 'naltrexone and its salts and derivatives'. The revised listing is necessary to include the new medicinal ingredient, methylnaltrexone bromide, a derivative of naltrexone. Naltrexone and its salts and derivatives are opioid receptor antagonists, which block or lessen the action of opioid drugs such as morphine

				without causing a biological response of their own. Methylnaltrexone bromide acts by reducing the effect of opioid drugs on the intestinal tract and is used to treat constipation in patients with advanced illness such as incurable cancer who are receiving opioid drugs on a continuous basis to alleviate pain. Methylnaltrexone bromide is administered by injection under the skin. 5. Nepafenac is a nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drug (NSAID) that is used for management of eye pain and inflammation associated with cataract surgery. 6. Panitumumab is a monoclonal antibody that acts on certain types of cancer cells and may prevent the cancer cells from growing or dividing. Panitumumab is used to treat cancer of the colon or rectum that has spread to other parts of the body. 7. Retapamulin is a topical antibiotic ointment that is used to treat bacterial skin infections such as impetigo and small infected cuts, abrasions and sutured wounds. 8. Sitagliptin and its salts is a member of a new class of medicines called dipeptidyl peptidase-4 (DPP-IV) inhibitors used to treat type II diabetes. Sitagliptin is used to improve blood sugar level in patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus in addition to diet and exercise. The degree of regulatory control afforded by Schedule F (prescription drug) status coincides with the risk factors associated with each medicinal ingredient. Oversight by a practitioner is necessary to ensure that appropriate risk/benefit information is considered before the drug containing the medicinal ingredient is administered and that the drug therapy is properly monitored. Schedule F is a list of medicinal ingredients, the sale of which is controlled under sections C.01.041 to C.01.049 of the Food and Drug Regulations. Part I of Schedule F lists ingredients that require a prescription for human use and for veterinary use. Part II of Schedule F lists ingredients that require a prescription for human use, but do not require a prescription for veterinary use if so labelled or if in a form unsuitable for human use.
CAN/257	26/01/09	26/03/09	Prescription status of medicinal ingredients for human use	Canada - Prescription status of medicinal ingredients for human use This Notice of Intent (NOI) is to provide an opportunity for comment on the proposal to amend Part I of Schedule F to the Food and Drug Regulations to revise the listing for Fluconazole to "Fluconazole, except when sold in a concentration of 150 mg per oral dosage unit and indicated for the treatment of vaginal candidiasis". Fluconazole is currently listed in Part I of Schedule F without any qualifying phrases or exceptions. This means that all strengths of fluconazole currently require a prescription in order to be sold in Canada. Schedule F is a list of medicinal ingredients, the sale of which is controlled under sections C.01.041 to C.01.049 of the Food and Drug Regulations. Part I of Schedule F lists ingredients that require a prescription for human use and for veterinary use. Part II of Schedule F lists ingredients that require a prescription for human use, but do not require a prescription for veterinary use if so labelled or if in a form unsuitable for human use. Description: Fluconazole is a triazole antifungal agent indicated for the treatment of vaginal yeast infections due to Candida. Vaginal candidiasis is a common vaginal yeast infection affecting many women. The proposed non-prescription fluconazole 150 mg would have exactly the same indications for use as the currently available prescription fluconazole 150 mg. Single dose orally administered fluconazole 150 mg has been available in Canada as a prescription drug for treatment of vaginal candidiasis since 1994.
