Foreword

Development of the East African Standards has been necessitated by the need for harmonizing requirements governing quality of products and services in the East African Community. It is envisaged that through harmonized standardization, trade barriers that are encountered when goods and services are exchanged within the Community will be removed.

In order to achieve this objective, the Community established an East African Standards Committee mandated to develop and issue East African Standards.

The Committee is composed of representatives of the National Standards Bodies in Partner States, together with the representatives from the private sectors and consumer organizations. Draft East African Standards are circulated to stakeholders through the National Standards Bodies in the Partner States. The comments received are discussed and incorporated before finalization of standards, in accordance with the procedures of the Community.

East African Standards are subject to review, to keep pace with technological advances. Users of the East African Standards are therefore expected to ensure that they always have the latest versions of the standards they are implementing.

EAS 143 was prepared by Technical Committee EASC/TC 007, Alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages.

This second edition cancels and replaces the first edition EAS 143:2000, which has been technically revised.

Standards are documents that provide a common reference point for the assessment of the quality of goods and services. Standards facilitate transparency in the exchange of products and enhance market access of Kenyan products into local, regional and international markets.

Information on standards and related documents is available at the KEBS standards information centre.

KEBS houses the WTO-TBT National Enquiry Point (NEP) which disseminates notification likely to affect international trade to the industry.

KEBS also provides technical advice on installation and improvement of quality goods and services to the industry so as to facilitate efficient implementation of standards. Some of the advantages of standards include: enhancement of quality assurance, safety and environmental protection measures, minimization of wastage, reduction of costs and unnecessary varieties and promotion of interchangeability and increased productivity in industry.
